

IT'S THE BEAR!

JEZ ALBOROUGH

For David, Amelia, Jane, Jason, and Lucy with thanks.

First published by Candlewick Press

CANDLEWICK PRESS
1001 Massachusetts Avenue
Cambridge, MA 02140

No part of this publication may be reproduced or stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording, or otherwise, without written permission of the publisher. For information regarding permissions, write to Candlewick Press, 1001 Massachusetts Avenue, Cambridge, MA 02140.

ISBN 0-618-20000-0

Copyright © 2004 by Jez Alborough

All rights reserved. Published by Scholastic Inc., 1915 Broadway, New York, NY 10019, by arrangement with Candlewick Press.

10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 1

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10

Printed in the U.S.A.

14

First Scholastic printing, April 2004

IT'S THE BEAR!

Jez Alborough

https://vk.com/kids_library

CANDLEWICK PRESS
Cambridge, Massachusetts

Eddie doesn't want to come and picnic in the woods with Mom.

"I'm scared," he said, "about the bear,
the great big bear that lives in there."

"A bear?" said Mom. "That's silly, dear!
We don't get great big bears around here."

"There's just you and me and your teddy, Freddie.
Now let's all get the picnic ready."

"We've got lettuce, tomatoes, and
cream cheese spread,
with hard-boiled eggs
and crusty brown bread.
There's orange juice,
cookies,
some chips and—

OH, MY!—

"I've forgotten to pack
the blueberry pie . . ."

"I'll dash back and get it,"
she said. "Won't be long."
"BUT MOM!"
gasped Eddie . . .

too late—
SHE HAD GONE!

He sat on the basket
and tried not to cry.
Then . . .

"I CAN SMELL FOOD!"
yelled a voice
from nearby.

"IT'S THE BEAR,"
cried Eddie.
"WHERE CAN I HIDE?"

Then he opened the basket and clambered inside.

Out of the trees
stepped a big hungry bear, licking his lips
and sniffing the air.
"A teddy bear's picnic,"
he bellowed. "Hooray!"
"Help," whispered Eddie.
"He's coming this way."

He cuddled
his teddy,
he hunched
and hied

Then a great big bear bottom

sat down on the lid.

The bear munched
and he crunched.
He chomped
and he chewed,
and greedily gobbled up
all of the food.

"HELP!"

shredded

"I WANT MY MOM!"

"Eddie, I'm coming," called Mom. "Are you hurt?"
"It's the bear," cried Eddie. "He thinks I'm dessert."

"A bear?" said Mom. "I told you, my dear.
Your Freddie's the only bear around here."

At this time
some are under BURNING THESE Do not sell sell them
I can't be the best can be there so

"A BEAR!"

"I TOLD you!" cried Eddie.
"RUN!" shouted Mom.
"Blueberry pie," said the bear.
"I LOVE it . . ."

"YUM, YUM!"

Eddie thinks there is a big bear in the woods.
Is he right?

This volume is only available for distribution through the school market.

WILEY-BLACKELL, INC.

605 Third Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10158